Ninjago cast movie

The 1992 film Boomerang is the raunchy rom-com film directed by Hollywood OG Eddie Murphy. The film, which was a commercial success, featured a deep bench of talent. Here's a look at how much personal wealth the stars of the film have amassed since then. Eddie Murphy and Robin Givens in 'Boomerang' | Paramount Pictures/Getty Images 'Boomerang' turned the script on romantic comedies Boomerang revolves around an advertising pro and womanizer named Marcus. When a female leader named Jaqueline swoops in and lands the job Marcus thinks he deserved, she also steals his heart and breaks it. As he licks his wounds, Marcus hangs out with his best friends Tyler and Gerard, and his creative counterparts Angela, Bony T and Strangé. The film got laughs and raked in over $131 million, according to Box Office Mojo. Based on the film's success, it's no surprise that the actors got consecutive high-profile roles. Here's how the stars stack up today when it comes to wealth, according to Celebrity Net Worth. Eddie Murphy as 'Marcus' RELATED: 'Beverly Hills Cop': How much are the stars worth today? Saturday Night Live alum Murphy has worked hard and built a huge fortune, from headlining comedy shows to grabbing the limelight on the big screen. The star is worth an estimated $200 million. And with the many projects he has on the horizon, Murphy has the potential to earn even more. Next up, fans can catch Murphy in Coming 2 America, the sequel to his 1988 smash hit, Coming to America. Martin Lawrence as Tyler RELATED: What's the cast of Martin Worth Today? Like Murphy, Martin Lawrence became known as a stand-up comedian. He starred in the funny sitcom Martin and went on to become a successful movie star. His latest feature film, Bad Boys for Life, raked in over $400 million, according to Box Office Mojo. And he's linked to filming a follow-up installment with co-star Will Smith. Lawrence has built a fortune of an estimated $110 million. Halle Berry as Angela Academy Award Winner Halle Berry was a relative newcomer when she won the hearts of fans in Boomerang. Since then, she has become a megastar with a series of hits under her belt. Movie goers can recognize Berry from Monster's Ball, Swordfish and the X-Men series. With several memorable performances in her from behind, Berry has built an impressive level of wealth estimated at a total of $90 million. Chris Rock as 'Bony T' RELATED: 'Fargo' Star Chris Rock calls the role the best of his career - Here's why joining his fellow standup comedians in Boomerang, Chris Rock added heart and humor to the film as postroom worker and office gossip. Over the years, Rock has built a reputation as a socially conscious entertainer with remarkable wit. He is a film star, director, producer and writer who has made a huge impact in the arts and entertainment. Rock made a dramatic turn in his latest project, Fargo, FX's crime drama anthology series and will soon grace the big screen in the latest horror film in the Saw series. Estimates place Rock's net worth at around $60 million. Grace Jones as Strangé Model, actress, singer and electric personality Grace Jones delivered a showstopping performance in Boomerang. Best known for strong figures such as Zula in Conan the Destroyer and May Day in A View to a Kill, Jones has maintained a presence in Hollywood since the early 1970s. The scene stealer is worth an estimated $7 million. David Alan Grier as 'Gerard' RELATED: 'In Living Color' Alums Jamie Foxx and David Alan Grier are reunited for a New Project TV buffs recognizing actor and comedian David Alan Grier for his success in long-running small-screen roles. He became a sketch comedy icon in FOX's In Living Color and vaulted to sitcom success in Life with Bonnie and The Carmichael Show. Then the funnyman co-star in Dad stop embarrassing me along with fellow In Living Color alum, Jamie Foxx. Grier maintains an estimated fortune of $4 million. Robin Givens as 'Jacqueline' Robin Givens became known as a TV star in the 80s. After a number of guest roles, she was cast in Head of the Class for five seasons. She has continued to appear on the big and small screens, including a very juicy role as former Mayor Sierra McCoy on the CW's Riverdale. Givens' fortune amounts to an estimated $2 million. Tisha Campbell-Martin as 'Yvonne' Tisha Campbell | Time Life Pictures/DMI/The LIFE Picture Collection via Getty Images RELATED: 'House Party' 30 years later: How much is the cast worth today? Fans will recognize Campbell-Martin as an actor, singer and dancer who has appeared in Little Shop of Horrors, House Party, Martin, My Wife and Kids, and other high-profile titles. She is estimated to be worth $500,000. Follow Erika Delgado on Twitter. Warner Bros. Interactive Entertainment Warner Bros. have a lot in store for Lego-loving movie fans in the coming years, not least the Lego Ninjago movie. Like video games and TV shows before that, the film will feature a group of teenage ninjas, but this time they will get new voices. During the Licensing Expo 2016, the cast was revealed via a handout, according to Brickset, and the actors on the list include the likes of Jackie Chan, Fred Armisen and Dave Franco. Chan is listed as playing Master Wu, the six young martial artists instructor. Meanwhile, Franco is listed as Lloyd and Armisen as Cole. The rest of the group will be voted by Michael Peña (Kai), Abbi Jacobson (Nya), Kumail Nanjiani (Jay) and Zach Woods (Zane). The document Brickset got his hands on also shared the summary of the film, and important plot elements will be familiar to those already familiar with Lego Ninjago: Ninjago is the story of six young ninja task of defending the island home, called Ninjago. At night they are gifted warriors, using their skills and Fleet of vehicles to combat villains and monsters. By day, the usual teenagers fighting their biggest enemy are: high school. The voice crew is new to the film, as video games and TV shows featured different actors. While some fans may be disappointed with the change, it should be hard to be too upset about a group that includes martial arts film maven Chan alongside funny comic actors. In addition, the group has Lego experience: Franco voted Wally in the Lego movie and Peña gave voice to Luis in the video game Lego Marvel's Avengers. Lego Ninjago is scheduled to hit theaters on September 22, 2017. Editors' recommendations I've tried a handful of movie listing apps, and generally they range from comically poor to just competent. This program by Flixster, simply titled Movies, puts all the other apps to shame. Attractively designed, Movies has a smart interface that allows the user to discover which flicks are playing, and it contains many other pretty features as well. The available categories include Box Office, Theaters, Upcoming, DVD and My Movies. The simple Box Office entries let you browse by movie title. You see every movie score on the popular review website Rotten Tomatoes, the main actors, the rating, the length of the movie, and also how much money the movie has earned so far. If you click on a specific title, you get even more information, such as showtimes, a video link to the trailer, photos, a summary, an expanded list of cast, critic and user reviews (you can add your own review as well), and links to other movie Sites. On the Theater tab you can search for theaters in your area either by name or distance from the zip code within a 30-mile range. It can also load the theaters on Google Maps. The Upcoming tab lets you keep track of movies coming out soon. Both this category and the one for new DVD releases are as easy to browse as the Box Office Entries tab is, and they contain similar information. My Movies allows you to customize the app, with lists of your favorite movies, reviews, photos and the like. It can also connect and work with sites like Facebook, Flixster, and Netflix. The app is not without its flaws. Sometimes the screen load time is a tap on the slow side. The app is also known to have problems with some phones, such as HTC Hero. Nevertheless, overall, this is a huge app that does many things right. Note: When you buy something after clicking on links in our articles, we can earn a small commission. Picture: United Artists The Western Genre helped propel many great actors to superstardom when they wore these hats and boots, and then rode their horses toward the sunset, until the director shouted Cut! Remember these celebrities? Since the Western film genre is as old as although, many silent film era actors appeared in westerns of that time. Film & Film Movie identify William S. Hart as the first Western film hero to epitomize what we now know about typical Western film protagonists: a man of integrity who fights when needed, and is honorable in his intentions and action. His silent film from 1925 called Tumbleweeds started it all, paving the way for future Western film heroes to evolve and evolve from this character archetype. As the Western film genre flourished, so did the diversity of Western movie heroes. The term antihero came to be, with the outlaw becoming the protagonists of Western films. They may not have the honor and integrity of the typical Western hero, but these figures gave the Western character a more nuanced context. They now seemed more human, and less of a perfect hero. In the process, they were also relatable to the public. 2017– 2017 it was still revised and reformed. But the big stars still want to play in them, as they see it as a good opportunity to contribute to the Western genre.
